no promises, but they at least have some credible science behind them if pregnancy doesn’t occur, progesterone falls, menstruation takes place, and the cycle begins again.

if someone wants to believe in the news stories, then go ahead kids can and do just about anything they want